MEDIA INFORMATION

As the Chicago Bulls enter their 26th season in the league, the team appreciates the coverage and support from the Chicagoland media. We look forward to assisting the media again this season. In an effort to provide a professional working environment, the Bulls have established the following guidelines for the season:

CREDENTIALS: We will honor all reasonable requests for credentials from recognized newspapers, magazines, radio and television outlets. The only season passes that will be honored at the Stadium are Bulls season credentials and NBA season credentials. Each of those credentials will admit the bearer to the Stadium, the upstairs press box, press row and both locker rooms. However, MEDIA MEMBERS HOLDING SEASON PASSES SHOULD NOTIFY THE BULLS OFFICE IF PLANNING TO COVER A GAME IN ORDER TO RESERVE SEATING. Please make seating requests at least 48 hours prior to the game.

Individual single game press and photo credentials can be secured for accredited media members by calling the Bulls Media Services office no later than 5:00 pm the day before a game (5:00 pm Friday for a weekend game). Single passes can be picked up at Gate 3 1/2 on the west side of the Stadium.

It is recommended that credentials be visibly worn in the Stadium to facilitate proper access to designated areas. In all cases, season and single game passes are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from the Stadium and the forfeiture of the credential.

PRESS ROOM: The upstairs press box serves as the Bulls press room. Only working media with a valid credential will be allowed in the press box. The work area is equipped with electrical outlets. Media needing a phone for the season or a single game should contact Tim Hallam (312/943-5800) two weeks in advance.

SERVICES: A pre-game meal will be served in the lower level of the southwest corner of the Stadium. Prior to the game, the media will also be provided with game notes and programs. All statistical services including play-by-play, quarter statistics, halftime and final box scores, and postgame quotes will be distributed at press row and in the upstairs press box. Scores from other NBA games being played will be flashed on the auxiliary scoreboards located on the mezzanine level at both the north and south sides of the Stadium. Fax service is provided before, during or after the game by Tom Wiscarz of Telesports.

LOCKER ROOM: In accordance with NBA policy, the Bulls and visitor's locker rooms will be open to the media up to 45 minutes before the game and 10 minutes after the end of the game. Only working media with a valid credential will be admitted to the locker rooms. The Bulls locker room is located on the east side of the Stadium, while the visitor's locker room is located on the west side.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Season passes will be issued to accredited photographers from Chicago daily newspapers and magazines wishing to work specific games should request single-game passes. Free-lance photographers needing credentials must submit a letter with a specific assignment from a publication.

POST-GAME GUESTS: Please be sure to list THREE choices for radio and television post-game interviews. This will assure a guest in case the first choice is unavailable.

AUTOGRAPHS: No autographs of players and coaches are allowed during media access periods.

VICE PRESIDENTS

Jerry Krause

Irwin Mandel

Steve Schanwald

Jerry Krause

Vice President/Basketball Operations

The chronological time between March 26, 1985, when then new Bulls owner Jerry Reinsdorf hired Jerry Krause as Vice President of Basketball Operations and June 12, 1991, when the Bulls won their first NBA championship, is six years and 78 days ... that time spent by Krause and his staff, coaches and players, that took them from the depths of the NBA's lower echelon to the lofty heights as it's reigning champions, certainly paid off for Reinsdorf ... described by Reinsdorf as "the hardest working sports executive I've ever been around" when he hired him ... Krause, now 52, will on November 1, 1991, wear a World Championship ring ... when the Bulls players, coaches and staff line up at mid court to receive their rings, each of them, aside from Michael Jordan, will have been brought to the franchise by Jerry Krause ... responsible for drafting Scottie Pippen, Horace Grant, B.J. Armstrong, Will Perdue, Stacey King, trading for Bill Cartwright, Craig Hodges, Dennis Hopson, and signing John Paxson, Cliff Levingston and Scott Williams as free agents ... during the last six years, he has received the highest possible tribute by his peers, being named the 1987-88 NBA Executive of the Year ... made 33 trades and juggled the roster and staff until the championship group was assembled. When it was assembled, he had the patience to let it develop ... his hiring of Phil Jackson as head coach two years ago put the last major piece of the World Championship puzzle in place ... one of his first moves after taking the job was to hire Tex Winter and Al Vermeil, two key members of the staff today. Later, he hired John Bach and Jim Cleamons as assistant coaches ... entering his 24th year in the NBA, in addition to 16 in Major League Baseball ... the lone person in sports history to hold upper level front office jobs in both the NBA and Major League Baseball ... in the wake of the victory celebration in June, he drafted Mark Randall, re-signed Cliff Levingston, John Paxson and Bill Cartwright ... the franchise's future with young players such as Jordan at 28, Grant 26, Pippen 25, Perdue 25, Armstrong 24, King 24, Williams 23 and holding the rights to brilliant 6'10" guard-forward and two-time European Player of the Year, Toni Kukoc, seems brighter than ever ... during the last six years, he has also seen two of his previous draft choices, Earl Monroe and Wes Unseld, enter the Basketball Hall of Fame. While at Baltimore in the late 1960s, he drafted those two along with current Utah Jazz Head Coach and former Bulls star, Jerry Sloan .. responsible for the drafting of the 1976 Rookie of the Year, Alvan Adams during a stint with Phoenix and stars such as Norm Van Lier, Clifford Ray, Norm Nixon, Brad Davis, Michael Cooper and James Edwards in stints with the Lakers and Bulls ... the winter prior to his return to the Bulls, he played a major role in the White Sox scouting and acquisition of 1985 American League Rookie of the Year and current American League All-Star, Ozzie Guillen ... had major roles in deals that brought Greg Luzinski, Tom Seaver, Ed Farmer, Julio Cruz to the White Sox ... drafted Greg Walker out of the Philadelphia Minor League Organization and played a strong role in the selection of current Major Leaguers Darryl Boston, Kenny Williams, Ron Karkovice, Steve Buechele as free agent drafts in his role as White Sox Special Assignment Scout ... worked for Cleveland, Seattle and Oakland in baseball ... a native Chicagoan, alumnus of Taft High School on the city's north side ... owns the distinction of having worked for three Chicago franchises, the Cubs, White Sox and Bulls and moving from the bottom of the pro sports ladder to the top executive job ... attended Bradley University in Peoria where he played baseball and worked for the basketball coaching staff ... before his 22nd birthday, he had spent time as a writer for Chicago's American and the Peoria Journal Star and contributed to both Sport and Sports Illustrated magazines. Since that time, he's been in professional sports ... a year ago in this space he said, "When I leave this franchise, I would like to leave wearing World Championship rings and have the franchise in a position where it can win for a long time to come." ... one year, one ring and one title later with a bright future ahead, the Bulls now go for "rings."

Irwin Mandel

Vice President/Financial & Legal

Entering his 20th season, the longest tenure of anyone with the Bulls, Irwin Mandel is the senior financial executive in the NBA, and one of the most experienced in any management position in the League ... he is responsible for the club's financial, legal, and corporate areas ... his most important duties include player contracts, financial reports, and applying and interpreting the NBA's salary cap, right of first refusal, and other collective bargaining rules ... oversaw the computerization of the entire office and the instituting of a detailed budget plan, and he coordinated and negotiated the club's switch to charter travel ... in recent years, Mandel helped develop NBA team financial statements and assisted the NBA Labor Relations Committee ... he is considered one of the league's most knowledgeable experts on the salary cap, player contracts, and the collective bargaining rules ... was one of the select few NBA executives chosen to serve on the committee to advise the league office regarding the most recent salary cap rules changes, and was one of two NBA front office executives appointed to the league-wide insurance committee ... he also recently served as a consultant to one of the other major professional sports leagues regarding the benefits and workings of the NBA's salary cap and free agency systems ... in the 19 years since his involvement with the league, Mandel has been an everyday participant in the NBA's growth into an entertaining, exciting, and respected enterprise that is currently enjoying the most prosperous days in its history ... "When I first started, almost every team was losing money. Gate receipts were way down. Each team's national TV revenue was about 1/25 of what it is today. Player salaries were much lower then, also. The total team salary during my first year was equivalent to the average salary of an individual player in the current market. Also, the role and importance of the agent has increased dramatically. Contracts are much more complicated today concerning dollars, guarantees, injury clauses, incentives, and free agency issues. Back then it was just the basketball court, today too often there is the legal court as well. When I started, we had eight people in the front office. Today we have over 30. Plus there is a significantly greater emphasis and commitment on the part of the Bulls and the other teams to the marketing area than in the past." ... "Every day is interesting and challenging. My job provides me with the opportunity to be creative, especially in regards to the salary cap. The salary cap and free agency were not in existence 19 years ago. Those two aspects have had a tremendous effect on the NBA. Now teams have to be knowledgeable, creative, aggressive, and one step ahead. That is what we're trying to do here." ... received both his undergraduate degree in accounting and his law degree from Northwestern University ... he is a Certified Public Accountant, as well as a member of the Illinois Bar ... worked in the tax department of Arthur Andersen & Co. for four years prior to joining the Bulls ... very active in various Northwestern alumni organizations, having recently completed two terms as President of the NU Club of Chicago ... was a recipient of the Northwestern Alumni Service Award, is active in Little City charitable activities, and speaks regularly to business groups, law schools, and college students regarding legal and financial management careers in professional sports ... Mandel, who is an avid tennis player, is a native Chicagoan, residing in Highland Park with his wife, Sheri, and sons Michael and Robby, who serve as ball boys at the games.

Steve Schanwald

Vice President/Marketing and Broadcasting

Hired in January of 1987 ... responsible for ticket sales, advertising sales, game presentation, promotions, media and community services, broadcasting and advertising ... Bulls have sold out all but one game during his tenure, including last 190 consecutive ... increased the involvement of Chicago's leading corporations with the team ... in an attempt to broaden the Bulls fan base, the Bulls have shifted their telecasts to WGN-TV, developed for the first time a 28 station radio network and added spanish radio broadcasts, another first in the history of the 25 year old franchise ... added a community services department to "service the needs of our fans, be active in community affairs, and implement a good neighbor policy" ... started CharitaBulls," the Bulls non-profit charity arm which has raised $800,000 during the past four years, and recently donated one million dollars to the Chicago Park District ... started the Shoot-The-Bull 3 on 3 Roundball Classic," a grass roots 3 on 3 basketball festival involving over 10,000 players ... frequent speaker on the subject of sports marketing ... has made Bulls games entertainment extravaganzas, and "attempts to involve the fans in the game as participants, rather than merely spectators." ... has won two World Championship rings in two different sports leagues (1979 Pittsburgh Pirates of "We are Family" fame, and the Bulls) ... also owns All-Star rings in baseball (1983) and basketball (1988) ... native of Bethpage, N.Y. ... 1977 University of Maryland graduate ... former Sports Promotion Director at the U.S. Air Force Academy (1978) ... former Director of Promotions for the Pittsburgh Pirates (1979-80) ... spent six years (1981-86) as Assistant Vice President of Marketing for the Chicago White Sox ... while there organization was recognized twice with baseball's Marketing Excellence Award ... also was the recipient of a local Emmy for work on the Sox's 1985 highlight film ... avid golfer ... resides in Burr Ridge, IL.

With Faul Fleet, You Take Home The Trophy.

IT TAKES A WINNER to play like a winner. And, just like the NBA Championship Chicago Bulls, The Faul Fleet Group knows the thrill of bringing home the trophy.

HEADQUARTERED IN THE CHICAGO area, The Faul Fleet Group plays a consistently aggressive game in the national automotive fleet market. Year after winning year, we sell, service and deliver more cars, vans and light trucks than virtually any other fleet dealer in the country.

ALTHOUGH WE SPECIALIZE IN EIGHT in-house car and truck lines, we can put corporate drivers in virtually any vehicle that General Motors, Ford and Chrysler build.

IT MAKES NO DIFFERENCE if your business fleet is just a handful of economy vehicles that never leave the Chicago area or 5,000 luxury cars, specially-equipped pickups and tricked-out vans covering every highway in the country. Whatever your fleet needs, The Faul Fleet Group can help you purchase, operate and recycle all your vehicles at the barest minimum cost per mile.

SO CALL FAUL FLEET. We'll help you take home the trophy.

Our Name Means A Great Deal.

THE Faul FLEET GROUP

TRY A TASTE of TURANO

Founded in 1962 by Mariano Turano, the Turano Baking Company bakes the finest breads and rolls based on authentic Italian recipes which Mariano brought over from his homeland. Today, Mariano's sons, Renato, Umberto and Giancarlo, and his brother Eugenio, continue the family tradition of quality baked goods. Through extensive taste-testing and quality-control, the Turano family makes certain the rich and robust flavors inherent to genuine Italian bread are found in the entire line of Italian food products baked by the Turano Baking Company. The Turano Family invites you to try a taste of Tradition.

1990-91 Bulls Season Summary

November (9-6)

The Bulls got off to a very slow start, losing their last two games of the exhibition season and their first three regular season games to Philadelphia, Washington and Boston. The losses to the 76ers and the Celtics came at Chicago Stadium, where the Bulls were a solid 36-5 during the 1989-90 campaign. After suffering those three straight losses, Chicago's November schedule didn't get any easier with a seven-game road trip. The Bulls began to turn things around, however, putting together four straight wins over Minnesota, Boston, Charlotte and Utah and finishing that seven-game trip with a 4-3 mark. In Chicago's 105-97 win over the LA Clippers on Nov. 23, forward Scottie Pippen recorded a triple-double with 13 points, 13 rebounds and 12 assists. On Nov. 30, in the Bulls 124-95 home win over Indiana, their fourth straight to close out the month, Michael Jordan hit for a game-high 37 points, including 10-11 from the field in the opening quarter.

December (11-3)

It was a very successful month of December for Chicago, as the Bulls won 11 of 14 games and closed out the month with a five-game winning streak. The Bulls played 11 of 14 games at the Stadium during the month, going 10-1 in those matchups, with the only loss coming against Portland, 109-101 on Dec. 8. In a 155-127 rout of Phoenix on Dec. 4, the Bulls set two team records — the 155 points were the most ever scored by a Chicago team in a non-overtime game; and the 86 points the Bulls had at halftime of that game were also the most ever. Another record-setting performance came during a 116-98 win over Cleveland on Dec. 15. In that contest, the Bulls held the Cavs to all-time low of five points in the opening quarter. Records were broken in the stands as well when on Dec. 14, as the Bulls played the Los Angeles Clippers, Chicago surpassed the 10,000,000 mark in home attendance. Forward Scottie Pippen recorded his second triple-double of the season in a 128-118 win over Indiana on Dec. 18, with 18 points, 11 assists and 10 rebounds.

January (9-4)

While winning nine of 13 in games in January, the Bulls began the new year by reeling off seven straight victories. That streak helped Chicago move into first place — the latest point in the season the team has been in first place since 1975 — in the Central Division ahead of Detroit, before the Pistons regained the spot on Jan. 28. On Jan. 9, in a 107-99 win over the 76ers at the Spectrum, Michael Jordan became the 45th player league annals to reach the 15,000-point mark. Jordan reached 15,000 in 460 games, the second fastest mark ever behind Wilt Chamberlain's 358 games. Also for the fifth straight season, Jordan was the leading vote-getter in the NBA All-Star voting, and he's been a member of the Eastern Conference All-Star team in each of his seven seasons in the league.

February (11-1)

By winning 11 of 12 games in February, the Bulls recorded the most successful month in team history, while also closing out the month with the highest winning percentage among Eastern Conference teams. Chicago, which finished up the month with a 10-game win streak, broke its all-time home winning streak of 15 games with a 118-113 win over the Bullets at Chicago Stadium on Feb. 19. At All-Star Weekend in Charlotte, Craig Hodges sank an event-record 19 straight shots and defended his title in the three-point contest and Michael Jordan scored a game-high 26 points as the East beat the West 116-114 in the 41st All-Star Game. For the month's 12 games, Jordan averaged 30.8 ppg. Scottie Pippen also had a solid month, averaging 21.2 ppg and 7.7 rpg, including scoring a career-high 43 points in a 129-82 win over Sacramento on Feb. 22.

March (13-4)

March turned out to be the busiest month of the season for the Bulls, as they played 17 games, winning 13 of them. Included in those 13 victories was a nine-game winning streak, which helped move Chicago into a tie with Portland for best overall record in the league. During the month, the Bulls increased their team record home winning streak to 26 games, before Houston snapped that skein with a 100-90 win on March 25. Chicago also chalked up its 1,000th win in franchise history with a 99-89 defeat of Utah on March 8. Coach Phil Jackson picked up his 100th career win on March 12, when the Bulls downed Minnesota 131-99, faster than any coach in team history. Michael Jordan scored 37 points in a 135-121 double-overtime road loss to the Celtics on March 31, and in doing so, he reached double figures in scoring during a game for the 408th straight time. That moved him into third place on the all-time list.

April (8-3)

Chicago closed out the 90-91 season on a high note as the team won its last four games straight, five of its last six. The Bulls won four of their last six at home and six of their last eight on the road. Chicago played its 1,000th home game on April 7 vs. Philadelphia but lost the game 114-111 in overtime. Chicago finished the season winning its 61st game, the most wins ever for a Bulls team. The Bulls also finished the season with its highest home attendance mark ever as 757,745 fans witnessed Chicago basketball at the Stadium.
